MEDICINAL.
DR. TUTT'S
EXPECTORANT.

IN 25 CTS. AND $1 BOTTLES.

Its properties are Demulcent, Nutritive, Balmic, Soothing and Healing. Combining all these qualities, it is the most effective LUNG BALM ever offered to sufferers from pulmonary diseases.

Dr. J. F. HAYWOOD, of New York, voluntarily endorses it. Read what he says:
New York, Sept. 10, 1877.

Dr. Tut: Dear Sir—During this year I treated nine hundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wards of the city the cases were of a very severe type. It was there my attention was called to Tut's Expectorant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty years I have never known a medicine to act so promptly and with such happy effects. It instantly subdued the most violent fits of coughing, and invariably cured the disease in a few days. I cheerfully endorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

J. FRANCIS HAYWOOD, M.D.

A NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER WRITES:
Office Evening News, Augusta, Ga.
Dr. Tut: Dear Sir—My little son was attacked with pneumonia last winter, which left him with a violent cough that lasted till within a month since, for the cure of which I am indebted to your valuable Expectorant. I had tried most everything recommended, but none did any good until I used your Expectorant, one bottle of which removed the cough entirely. With many thanks, I am yours truly,
JOHN M. WIGGLE.

HAD TERRIBLE NIGHT SWEATS.
Memphis, February 11, 1871.
Dr. Tut: Sir—I have been suffering for nearly two years with a severe cough. When I commenced taking your Expectorant I was reduced to one hundred and sixteen pounds in weight, and almost everything I had tried had failed. I have taken half dozen bottles. The night sweats have left me, the cough has disappeared, and I have gained fifteen pounds in flesh. I recommend it to all my friends. With great respect,
OLIVER RICE.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.
Reader, have you caught a cold? Are you unable to raise the phlegm? Have you an irritation in the throat? A sense of oppression on the lungs with short breath? Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? Is a sharp pain now and then in a region of the heart, shoulders and back? IF SO, OUR ADVICE IS to take at once a dose of Tut's Expectorant; you will soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a hot iron to the feet two or three times. You will soon fall into a pleasant sleep and wake up in the morning cough gone, lungs working freely; easy breathing and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To prevent a return of those symptoms use the Expectorant several days.

$20 PER TON OF 2000 LBS. $20
I am now prepared to furnish the above valuable fertilizer at the low price of $20 per ton of 2000 lbs., delivered on cars or boats. It is in its crude state, and farmers in want had better order early, so they can prepare it for fall sowing. There is nothing in this guano but the pure fish with the oil extracted (which is said by all chemists to be no fertilizer). I can refer to those I sold it last spring, who have already sent in their orders for more to use on their wheat. aug 15 THOMAS PERRY, Agent.

A Christmas Present.
Not many weeks before Christmas a young lady respectfully connected fell in love with an Englishman, whose name was George Roe. The young lady, besides having youth, was possessed of no little beauty, and had many suitors. The Englishman had something in his manner and face that attracted this young lady, and she openly showed her preference for him. Her parents, seeing this, tried to persuade her to banish her fondness for him, but she would not. The Englishman was a mechanic, and that was all they knew of him. She loved him the more because he promised to work for her and support her. Thus the course of her love ran on, disturbed only by one disapprobation of her parents. The two were married before the holidays came on, and Roe obtained work on the new building of Hamilton & Ester & Co., on German street. The couple lived happily together, and the old folks began to think that their fears had been groundless. It was a cold day, not many days before the joyful Christmas tide, that young Roe was passing down the stairway in the rear of Easter's stores, when he saw a seakins sagging hanging on the baluster rail. No one was around, and he took it at once, hiding it under his coat, walked away. Christmas Day he presented it to his wife as a Christmas gift. She was somewhat surprised at this expensive gift, but thought nothing more of it. The New Year came, and the husband, feeling the want of money, advised his wife to pawn the saggy, telling her he would redeem it when she wanted it. The obedient wife did as she was bid, and yesterday visited a pawn shop and offered the saggy. The pawnbroker was surprised and notified private detectives. They shadowed the young wife and found she met a man, and having been notified of the robbery, they arrested the parties. They were taken to the Middle Station, where the above story came out at a hearing before Justice Johns, and young Roe was committed for the action of the grand jury. The scene at the station house was a most affecting one. The wife was true to the last to her husband, and at first refused to believe him guilty; but the proof was so convincing that her faith was somewhat shaken. She fell upon his neck and wept bitterly, and when he was taken to his cell she was quite overcome.—Baltimore American.

TWO RUSSIAN CATHEDRALS.—Among the greatest glories of St. Petersburg are the two magnificent cathedrals, "St. Isaac's" and "Our Lady of Kazan." In their construction and finish both display an enormous outlay of money, imposing architecture, costly materials and exquisite interior decoration. It will suffice to give some idea of the former, which is the more stupendous of the two. In the first place, the cost of sickening the piles on which the foundations rest was $200,000 sterling. The building, which is in the form of a Greek cross, is of Finland granite, and supported by over one hundred polished pillars sixty feet high and seven feet in diameter. The cupola is surrounded by thirty more of these pillars of large size, which support the gilded dome sixty six feet in diameter, with a miniature cupola above.

Then the whole is surmounted by a gilt cross, the top of which is three hundred and thirty-six feet from the ground. The exterior decorations are huge bronze figures and doors, as well as Corinthian capitals and Biblical groups in the facade. Aside the effect is most impressive. Here again are great pillars of polished granite, as well as a top of iron covered with malachite, and two with lapis lazuli. The walls and floors are of glistening granite and marble of different colors. Pictures of sacred subjects adorn the walls; images loaded with jewels and gifts are met at every turn; the altar is resplendent with bronze, gold, silver, jewels, light and tassels; gold and silver chandeliers for hundreds of candles are hung from the lofty ceiling, and everywhere shrine lights and burning tapers meet the sight to complete the impressive grandeur.

During service the effect is heightened. The Greek Church employs vocal, but not instrumental music. The responses are chanted at St. Isaac's by a large body of chorists without accompaniment. The candles in the chandeliers are all lighted; several priests and altar boys appear in gold and silver vestments, and the people, all standing, are constantly crossing themselves, or bowing their heads to the marble floor, the whole constituting a scene of profound devotion to the Supreme Being that can never be forgotten. On account of irreconcilable differences between the Catholics and Russian Greek Churches, Russia still uses the old style Greek or Julian Calendar, which is twelve days behind the new style Latin or Gregorian Calendar.

THE CZAR'S DIARY.—"Got up 7 a. m. and ordered my bath. Found four gallons of vitriol in it and did not take it. Went to breakfast. The nihilist had placed two torpedoes on the stairs, but I did not step on them. The coffee smelt so strong of prussic acid that I was afraid to drink it. Found a scorpion in my left slipper, but luckily shook it out before putting it on. Just before stepping into my carriage to go for my morning drive it was blown into the air, killing the coachman and the horses instantly. I did not drive. Took a light lunch off her majesty's sealed American canned goods. They can't fool me there. Found a poisoned dagger in my favorite chair, with the point sticking out. Did not sit down on it. Had dinner at 6 p. m., and my Baron Latschoukowski sat, every dish. He died before the soup was cleared away. Consumed some Baltimore oysters and some London stout that I have had looked up for five years. Went to the theatre and was shot at three times in the first act. Had the entire audience barged. Went home to bed and slept all night on the roof of the palace.—Court Journal.
